

Jeff's & Paul's Autumn Diary

Dear Reader

WELCOME to our bumper edition of New Learning. We hope you enjoy some great articles from some wonderful people.

Once again it is a great pleasure to thank everyone who has shown interest in our activities and development, and has shared dreams, enthusiasm and success, and has, in particular,

- contributed to the production of this issue of New Learning. In particular we would like to thank Joe Sinclair for all the hard work he has put in over the year on editing the journal
- joined us at our October 2-day NLPednet Conference;
- maintained contact - via e-mail, land-mail and telephone;

Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year!

Be well. Go well.

Over 80 people attended from all parts of the UK and a few from Europe – and feedback has been very positive.

We are most grateful to the many people who gave their time, energy, love and commitment in setting up and making this important event happen, and to the many people who participated – as organisers, presenters and attendees.

In particular many thanks to our presenters: Chris Matson, Nick Walters, Susan Rowley, Diana Beaver, Eddie Woodhouse, Graham Shaw, John Turner, Michael Mallows, Mike Downes, Mike Leibling, Paul Hobbs. ... and we are also grateful for the wonderful assistance of Silvie deClerk, Tony Horan and Sandra Hill (who did a magnificent job in providing wonderful refreshments and lunch!)

Some Conference Feedback!

I really enjoyed the conference. I loved the fact that different speakers did a 2-minute introduction to their talk to help us choose workshops, before that I was struggling to choose; it was the different personalities that I went for rather than content. After spending the last year studying NLP practitioner and master-track it was really useful for me to see it applied to education my personal passion. (NA Primary Teacher Gloucester)

A ... THANK YOU to you and Paul for an extraordinary conference! ... After the conference on Saturday, I floated back to my brother's place in Islington and meditated for an hour before he came home. Then as soon as the key turned in the door, I jumped up and began reliving the days events. It was truly inspiring! There were so many good points but what comes to mind is the fascinating subjects/material, how well it all flowed, one workshop after the other and how one could choose which workshops to attend. You and Paul were terrific presenters, at one point I could see a glow on both of you, almost like an aura! ... I am in awe when I meet people who are passionate about life and exude that passion. (SV EFL Teacher, Finland)

I enjoyed it immensely and came for both days which had not been my original intention!!! I came on a personal level to find out more about NLP (and achieved this.....only having to go away to read lots more and inwardly digest what I had learnt). FS (School Governor, Oxford)

We had some really amazing speakers! I was impressed by each of them. Money well spent! And that's not counting the informal chats, serious networking & wonderful conversations that I had with other delegates! 'Good Work!' (KB London)

I got an enormous amount from it. This is definitely an area I would like to specialise in, having already achieved the Diploma in Special Learning Difficulties. My interest in learning difficulties is due to my highly talented dyslexic daughter who is now a web site designer/business analyst. The thought of doing what used to take me years and months in weeks, days and minutes is highly appealing. (MG Basingstoke)

The Conference was excellent, and I celebrate what you made happen. A very enjoyable and rewarding event, which must have touched the hearts and minds and lives of many people! Love (MM Writer/Trainer London)
